'UPES NSS celebrated a 'Swachhta Pakhwara' from 15 September to 2 October 2018 wherein 100 UPES student volunteers contributed to the event. 'Swachhata Pakhwada' is the mission for "Clean India".

The event motivated everyone to keep the environment safe and healthy and the student volunteers targeted the many regions of the University and the nearby surroundings. We started the cleanliness drive from the UPES Bidholi and Kandoli campus itself because it is always better to start from home and then we cleaned the area nearby college.

Learnings gained from the activities:

- The management techniques to organize an event by taking care of resources required to carry out the event, skills required, planning of the activities, team formation, and support.
- Safety is the first thing we have to keep in our mind; for this particular event, we were given hand gloves, brooms, dust pans, polybags, and dust bins for cleaning purposes.
- First Aid material was with us for any emergency, and at the same time, our team carried water bottles, Glucose and some biscuits in case of dehydration of any of our teammates.
- We learned that littering in public is very easy but cleaning the garbage is a tough nut to crack. We should not throw trash in open because it would harm us and our environment. Together we can make this country and the whole world CLEAN and GREEN.

The activities under the 'Swachhta Pakhwara' brought a clean look back in the region around the university and the adjoining villages.
